Facilitating Transformative Change Using a System's Change Framework

This learning community will explore applying a system change framework to guide the work of the ITTCs. We often talk about leading transformative change, but how do we really influence the larger system to facilitate large-scale change. We will explore the Six Conditions of System Change (resources, policies, practices, relationships & connections, power dynamics, and mental models) and review concrete strategies to maximize our influence on these conditions. We will review examples of applying this model to the work of the ITTCs.

Professional development opportunities are open to all ITTC members. Be sure to invite each member of your team.
